New Savings Bond Will Go On Sale Tuesday Morning

One of the easiest things a man does is to accept a habit. As the various Victory Loan campaigns uprooted during the last year, about the first question a citizen asked was "What is the objective this time?"

Since money was needed to win the war and to take care of our men and women in uniform, it was money objective in each campaign because a challenge to Canadian people.

Naturally, when the new issue of Canada Savings Bonds was announced, money and promptly, promptly asked "What is the objective this time?" And as they got the answer "There is no objective," they were momentarily puzzled. A sale of bonds without a goal to aim at just didn't seem fitting and wasn't easy to understand.

It is literally true that no practicable sum of dollars is sought during the sale of Canada Savings Bonds which opens on October 16th. This sale was not prompted by a desire to fill up the money bags of the government treasury. It is being launched to meet the keen desire of thousands of Canadians to continue their program of regular savings inaugurated by the Victory Loans and War Savings Certificates campaigns during the war years.

However there is an objective associated with the spreading of thousands of bonds to the public. It might be described as the determination of those who are responsible for the sale of bonds in all provinces of Canada that all citizens shall have an opportunity to buy bonds. That is why the story of the canvass of the new Canada Savings Bonds is being so widely told, and why investment dealers and the banks are setting up facilities which will enable citizens to buy, no matter where they may be located.

Put another way, each Canadian sets up his own objective this time. Canada Savings Bonds have been created to help a man help himself.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor: Call:

Unless something is done to quieten the children who attend the local theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings, a great number of theatre-goers will stay at home on said evenings and enjoy radio programs where at least a certain amount of law and order can be enforced.

I have heard many such complaints recently. Those attending the theatre have reached the point where the quietness of their own living room is preferable to the noise and confusion that goes on. All the best actors in the picture are lost, drowned out by the rough-housing that goes on.

I sat behind a row of such teenagers who took no notice of the picture whatever, but fought continually with one another, and spent their energy swatting one another over the heads, with their caps, rolls of paper, or what have you.

This is more than tiring to theatre lovers, who try to follow the trend of the story portrayed on the screen.

One cannot lay the blame on the pictures shown, as being uninteresting to movie-goers, as all the pictures shown are of the best and educational as well. If these children are old enough to enter a theatre, they're old enough to be able to refrain from disturbing the rest of the audience, who have also paid their admission fee.

An example should be taken from the city theatres where one dare not even rustle a candy bag for fear of angry stares from all directions.

And that is how it should be.

AN IRATE CITIZEN.

Following the government's decision to discontinue the producers' sales on concentrated milk products, an order has been announced at which a price increase on evaporated milk equivalent to the amount of subsidy formerly paid, 16¢ per case of 48 tins.

To the consumer this will mean a three quarter cent increase per 16 oz. tin. Maximum prices of prices of concentrated milk products, at the manufacturing level have also been increased by the following amounts: condensed milk (which) by one cent per pound, (skimmed) by one and one half cents per pound milk powder (which) by two and one half cents per pound and (skimmed) by two cents per pound.

WATERWORKS PLEBISCITE MONDAY, OCTOBER 28

A special meeting will be held in the Gleichen Community Hall on Monday, October 21st at 8 p.m. to deal with:

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

regarding the proposed waterworks.

In speaking to various ratayers, the following observations were made:

1. Some seem to think it is going to take a lot of money out of their pockets when it ACTUALLY IS NOT!

2. Some think because they are not on the water line themselves they would not benefit from it, but

THEY DO BENEFIT FROM IT!

3. Some think it is to early to consider replacement of irrigation system it is not: IT IS NOW 16 YEARS OLD!

4. The great majority are heartily in favor of it because:

A. It is good common business sense financially. It will cost more to keep up the old system than to install the new, which will in addition give far greater service.

B. It will increase value of property in town directly and indirectly.

C. It will be a more sanitary more modern and up-to-date town for us and our children to live in.

D. It will give added fire protection and will maintain our low rates of insurance.

E. It will mean a step forward on the ROAD TO PROGRESS in a modern world.

Vote: YES October 28th.

W. SUTERMEISTER, Mayor.

Thanksgiving Day

Next Monday, October 14, is Thanksgiving day and will be observed as a Dominion holiday.

To Newfoundland, the oldest colony of the British Empire, belongs the honor of having the first Thanksgiving celebration on this continent.

This was in 1578 and it was conducted by a clergyman who accompanied the expedition which under Sir Martin Frobisher brought the first British immigrants to the New World.

It must have been a stirring and a picturesque ceremony and they had much to be thankful for after their voyage in those days the voyage was really a hazardous adventure. To the perils of the sea in the little coracles that were the ancestors of the modern ocean greyhounds were added the possible attack of buccanniers of the coast who knew neither flag nor race when they had chance to plunder as well as the navy of the nation with which the nationals of the adventurers or rather their kings and princes happened at the time to be at war.

Canada was somewhat slow to take up the idea. It is true that the churches observed the harvest festival but Thanksgiving does not seem to have been a national day of celebration until October 9, 1879 when it was ordained that a day of general Thanksgiving should be held and this was duly observed on November 8th following.

There had been days of observance of Thanksgiving for special events before this. Upper Canada proclaimed on March 1872 for the restoration to health of then Prince of Wales who was afterwards King Edward VII.

The philosophy of the succeeding Thanksgiving proclamations has varied a little since the first one was written. In the early days of the present century Canadian Thanksgiving Day was made to correspond with that of the United States and there were some disadvantages in this arrangement.

It was felt that the date chosen by the republic—the last Thursday in November, was late to serve the original purpose of the Canadian celebration, a thanksgiving for the harvest and a Thursday in October was chosen for a year or two. Afterwards to suit the convenience of travellers and others when business took them away from home, a Monday was chosen.

During the 1921 session of the Canadian parliament someone hit upon the happy idea of having Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day observed on the same day and the date was fixed as the Monday in which November 11 occurs.

Some years later parliament decided that Armistice day and the day for general Thanksgiving should be two separate holidays and it was decreed that each year an order-in-council would set the day on which these two holidays would fall on.

The general rule observed, however, is to have Thanksgiving day fall on the second Monday in October and this has been the case since.

Canada as we have it was born of hardship and human sacrifice. We are the Chosen People. Being on the turkey—or most it be a bird of paradise before we admit gratitude.

So the day has become for Canada a day of real thanksgiving. It is a thanksgiving for the fruits of harvest and a day of special grateful remembrance for the sacrifices of those who do not share its observance with us but who made them possible.

Red letters day like Thanksgiving may lose some of their thrill and glamor as we grow older. But it's a comfort to know that there's always a rising generation of people for whom Thanksgiving is a event of importance not for behind Santa Claus.

Originally with the pioneers Thanksgiving was a solemn occasion—a day for thanks that Providence had blessed with abundant crops to preserve them from starvation.

No longer are people grateful for necessities. Thanks are raised only for the heart of plenty disorders, even though there are shortages of many giving desired. But the pinch is not tight even at its worst. Largely it's a matter of thoughtlessness. If we pause to ponder our material prosperity, unprecedented in any other country, or any previous civilization in mankind's history, we realize that we have reasons for thanks. If the early pioneers had our brand of prosperity, our standard of living, they'd have thought they were pious on the Promised Land.

The end of the steel strike and a return to work with some matters still to be negotiated has started us over again the discussion of the proper and best way to handle disputes in a free democracy. The government of Canada took over the steel plants when the strike appeared imminent and the strike was therefore against a government controlled industry. Newspapers in Montreal and Toronto which opposed the government in the last general election are bitter in their criticism of the government's refusal to use its special wartime powers to force a settlement—in this case to force labor back to work pending a settlement of differences. What would be the outcome of such a policy?

Critics of the labor unions point to the declared political affiliations of a number of union leaders and charge that the main struggle is for political power in the labor union. With Mother and Millard of the C.I.O. unions struggling for the interests of the C.C.F. party and C. S. Jackson Burt and others for other party and that both are using the working man as an instrument of political propaganda in an attempt to undermine public confidence. Col-

ELECTRICAL POWER IS DEPENDABLE

BEHIND the switch that brings you instant fingertip service lies the constant vigilance of many men. Through the dark hours of the night, when you and your neighbors sleep, their unceasing watch goes on. In summer cloudburst and wintry blizzard discomfort and sometimes danger are their lot, but in the safeguarding of those slim wires traversing the countryside to your house and the house next door and the thousands of homes beyond that, lies their duty.

To them there is no such thing as service beyond the call of duty, for they know only the importance of uninterrupted electricity. They know that necessity is heedless of time and that emergencies may come at any hour. They know that when sickness strikes at night light is the first demand. Light that is gained at the flick of a fingertip with no thought that it might not be there.

That is your tribute of which they are so proud... you took it for granted. That is the way they want you to continue to feel, that ELECTRICAL POWER IS DEPENDABLE.

Immigration Policy

THE SUBJECT OF IMMIGRATION is receiving a great deal of attention in Canada today. It came up frequently in debates during the last session of Parliament, and at that time it was announced that an inter-departmental committee was preparing a post-war immigration policy. The matter was also brought up in the Upper Chamber, when the Senate Immigration Committee brought in a report in which it was urged that a vigorous policy of selective immigration be commenced as soon as shipping space becomes available. It also stated that the subject of immigration is of the greatest importance to the people of this country "if we are to hold our place abroad and improve and maintain our standard of living at home."

Little Hope For Future

Canada has some 3,500,000 square miles of territory including large areas where there are valuable resources and rich land waiting to be developed. In view of these facts, the question has frequently been raised as to whether the present population of 12,000,000 people can expect to remain in exclusive ownership of so much land, when in other parts of the world overcrowding and many industries, deserving persons, look to the future with little hope if they must remain in their present surroundings. Those who favor an extensive immigration program, stress that it must be on a highly selective basis and that all those admitted must be the type of people who would be an asset to the Dominion.

Changes Made In Regulations

In 1931, when there was widespread unemployment in Canada, the immigration laws were amended, and unrestricted immigration was limited mainly to British subjects, citizens of the United States, and a few others in special categories. These regulations are still in effect, although recently arrangements were made to admit relatives of Canadians from foreign countries. If the Canadian relative can guarantee to provide for them and arrange for their accommodation. It was also decided to admit some 4,000 unarranged Polish veterans who had fought in company with the Canadian Army in Italy. These men were brought into Canada on the understanding that they would work on farms for at least two years after their arrival. There is a strong opinion among many individuals and organizations throughout the Dominion in favor of a selective policy of immigration which would build up the population, settling our uncultivated land and providing wide domestic markets for the products of our farms and factories. There will be great interest shown in whatever action is taken in regard to this matter during the coming months.

New Drug

Streptomycin Is Effective When Penicillin Does Not Respond
Certain infectious diseases respond effectively to penicillin and streptomycin treatment. Dr. J. A. Dauphine, Toronto, told a convention of the Manitoba Medical Association held in Winnipeg.

Streptomycin, a fairly new drug, is not yet generally available to the profession although an increase in supply was anticipated, he said. The use of the newer drug will be effective in the treatment of certain infections which will not respond to penicillin therapy.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—What are the numbers in ration book five of the ration coupons which will not be declared valid?
A.—The following coupons in ration book five will not be declared valid: R23, R23, R24 and R25 which were exchanged for butter, and Q2 to Q25, which were used for the purchasing of meat.

Q.—Is the paper situation really as serious as our merchants would like us to believe?

A.—The paper bag and wrapping paper supply is very serious, and will continue to be for some time. Housewives can greatly co-operate with the merchants by always carrying a shopping bag when they go shopping. Fruits, vegetables, canned goods and packaged goods can be packed in the shopping bag without additional wrapping paper.

Q.—Several months ago, we are given priority on a new car. Now the dealer tells us that the priority certificate is of no value, and that he may sell his car to anyone he pleases. Is this correct?

A.—Yes, your dealer is correct. Regulations governing priority certificates and the distribution of new cars were lifted as of August 15, 1946.

Q.—I have an error in my new ration book. Should I return it to the local ration board in my district?
A.—Return your book immediately to the local ration board for adjustment.

SMILE AWHILE

Don't worry if your job is small, and your rewards are few; Remember that the mighty oak Was once a nut like you.

"What makes you look so dirty?" asked the neighbor. "Well," replied the little lady of five, "you gave my brother a dime yesterday to wash his face."

At a local concert for the troops an amateur soprano "believed". She sang or, rather, she warbled all over the notes.

At the finish there was a short silence, broken by one or two hand-claps. Then a husky voice came from the back seats: "Now give us the 'All Clear', missus."

Caller: "I am so sorry your mistress is out. Do you think she will be at home this evening?"
Maid: "She'll have to be; it's my night out."

Tourist—Pardon, sir, but what do you do with all that corn?
Farmer—Well, we eat what we can and what we can't we can. Tourist—Oh, I see.
Tourist's Wife (to husband)—What did he say, dear?

Tourist—He said, they ate what they could, and what they couldn't they could.

High-Speed Building

Houses Are Constructed in Record Time Under New Method

A new system of high-speed precast building which enables houses to be complete within one week has been introduced by a Sheffield, England engineer-builder. The technique involves the use of molds of steel casting, which turn out cellular concrete sections faced with imitation brick, stone chippings or pebble like pieces of jigsaw all dovetailed to make a rapid and complete fit.

LESS EXPENSIVE

The ancients blamed the planets for their troubles. That was less expensive than maintaining a government to blame things on, says the Brandon Sun.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

When The Fire Falls

By GEORGE KAUFFMAN

THE snows of Austria glowled with an inner warmth as evening came over the Alps. Day always stays longer in the snow than in the soil. Caught within the drifts it lies hidden from the night in its soft radiant light. A girl was skidding down a slope. Her skis cut through the bank like twin rapiers and threw up a flurry of snow as she arched from side to side in the wind. Suddenly she whipped out of sight and crouched behind a ledge like a snow-rabbit hiding from the hounds. . . . Soon she was joined by another skier, a man.

"The point is," said General Mott, of the Gestapo, "skis leave tracks. Her skis leave tracks. Why don't you follow them?"

Young Captain Kruger hesitated. "Her marks vanish."

"So?" The General thought this over. "Come now, Kruger. You were ski-master at the Hotel Luick. What did you do while you taught the fat wives of Austria to ski? Just teach them, it seems. And now many of these same Austrians are skidding over the Alps to Switzerland. This is fine. . . . fine!"

Hotel Luick was the ski-resort of all Europe. Nestled in a glacial valley the hotel sat in the snows like an old hen over her brood of chicks, chalets which dotted the snow slopes. The past clientele never visited the hotel. The Nazi social set had taken it over, and Goering himself gave huge hunting-skiing parties there for all the European quitters.

The night General Mott arrived to take a personal hand in the affair of the vanishing ski-tracks, the staff of the hotel had prepared the traditional Fire Fall, an ageless ritual of the people of the Alps. From a hanging valley burning embers were dropped, filling the evening with fire-showers.

The General had finished his dinner on the roof of his suite. "This is splendid," he said, taking a breath of the brittle alpine air. "One almighty regret there is a war."

"The war seems very remote in the valleys," said Kruger. "Good evening. Why do the people co-operate with this underground ski-thing?" Kruger remained silent.

"The silence of these valleys have affected even mine Captain, no?"

"Here is the fire-fall, sir," Kruger pointed out from the balcony. From far up the night the embers began falling down the vast grey glacial walls like fiery serpents.

"Beautiful," murmured the General. "Just like a Nazi torchlight parade."

Then another stream of embers began trailing down the walls. As if pulled down by magnet they began to form a curve in the night.

"Stop this," shouted General Mott, jumping to his feet. "Hunt them down. Making a fool of me, they. Hunt them down!" He turned to Kruger. "What have we ski-troops for?"

"Go get them. Place guards in all the villages. Shoot any civilian on the slightest excuse!"

Next morning the General was awakened early by his orderly. "We have just received word from field radio, sir, that they have captured the girl."

"Hst! Splendid," laughed the General. "And you needn't tell me but the officer in charge was Captain Kruger."

"That evening the girl was brought to the General by Kruger.

"Good evening," smiled the General. "I see you are beautiful. Mysterious women generally are. Tell me. Why do you help these Jews escape into Switzerland?"

"I help all who can no longer fight you inside Austria," she replied in firm level tones. "They continue to fight you elsewhere. This is no tourist business."

"You mean to say that you are not just helping the rich escape, but also putting out of our reach these

SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Port Of Churchill Takes Stock After Grain Ships Leave

CHURCHILL, Man. — After the last two grain ships of the year left for England, officials of this Hudson Bay port took stock of its 1946 shipping season and surveyed its hopes for next year.

When the eighth and ninth freighters—the Fort Richelieu and the Hill Great Park—sailed they brought the port's wheat exports this year up to an unofficial 2,800,000 bushels, fifth best season in point of number of ships and possibly the third best in quantity of shipments Churchill has enjoyed.

In addition to the wheat, the Dalgleish line ships which called here this season loaded pit props and some miscellaneous cargo after discharging whiskey, curing stones and china. Every carload of wheat or grain sent to Churchill went over the 1000-mile Hudson Bay Railway, a single-track line that cuts through the northern fringes of the Canadian Shield, then runs fairly straight over miles of spongy muskeg.

Almost all the stevedores and dock workers here were brought in from the "outside." There were approximately 160 men working around the docks and railway sheds.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

DEEDS

Not by birth does one become an outcast.

Not by birth does one become a noble.

Through deeds it is that one becomes an outcast.

Through deeds it is that one becomes a noble.—Sutta.

Goodness and philanthropy begin with work and never stop working.

All that is worth reckoning in what we do, and the best of everything is not too good, but is economy and riches.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Let us decide honestly what we can do, and then do it with all our might.—Amelia D. Barr.

It is the little things well done that go to make up a successful and truly good life.—Theodore Roosevelt.

Every man feels instinctively that all the beautiful sentiments in the world weigh less than a single lovely action.—James Russell Lowell.

Using New Material

Colored Plastic Replacing Wood Planking As Decks For Ships

The wooden planks of the Mauritania's decks are to be replaced by colored plastic. This new decking, which is just as strong as wood planking, has a number of advantages over the old type; it is easily washable, does not need hollystoning, and will not absorb oil or grease. This plastic decking is a Clydeair development.

Green plastic has been tried successfully in the Blackburn, a vessel in naval service. It is claimed to be springy underfoot, proof against tropical heat or Arctic cold, and will not catch fire. It is restful to the eyes against sea glare.

Another use of plastics in British shipyards is on the Queen Elizabeth whose hull is being treated below the waterline with a plastic composition.

THE CRACKER BARREL

Crack men's club in Ottawa and laid the whole blame for the strike on the liberal government.

Criticism of the steel companies for their disregard of the interests of the public is also heard in many places. Differences in the economic position of the three steel companies further complicates the arguments and all sides of the argument for public ownership of such a basic industry are still heard.

Canada and the Refugees
The stand taken by Canada's Secretary of State, Hon. P. Martin, against the forcible repatriation of refugees again brings up the problem of caring for the unfortunates of war. If this column this week appears to be making special pleas or expression of public opinion it is because, in a free democracy, public opinion must continue to be a strong and vocal force. How can we Canadians justify keeping our doors shut against the oppressed and depressed of the world? If many refugees, selected perhaps on a basis of physical health and occupational skills can be successfully rehabilitated in Canada?

Town & District

The everlasting subject, the weather, has been a trying one for some days past with heavy frosts or light rains at night. This has caused harvesting to be suspended, yet a great amount of work has been done.

What community will be the first to set up a voluntary committee to survey its possibilities and request a definite number of refugees?

War Assets

At the last session of parliament a committee investigated charges that usable batteries were being destroyed by the air force. Further information is now available on this question. 35,000 batteries of all kinds, sizes and shapes were turned over by the armed services to War Assets in usable condition. 543 were sold to vocational schools. 2,056 were retained and used by War Assets, 9,416 (probably on hand in Britain) were sold to the British Ministry of Supply. 225 went to the Canadian Army, and 18,801 (probably on hand in Holland) were sold to the Netherlands government. These included 364 aircraft batteries and 160 ship batteries.

of grain has been hauled into the elevators each day. There is still considerable grain to thresh or combine but a week or ten days should see most of the work finished.

Andrew T. Mills age 86 died at Eventide Home last Wednesday afternoon. He was born in Fife County, Scotland and was a veterinarian. He was a real old time Albertan having come to this country 65 years ago and had been a resident of Gleichen for over three years, coming here from Calgary. Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon by Major A. F. Parkinson where interment was made in Eventide cemetery.

Housewives unable to bake pies and cakes because of insufficient shortening will be glad to learn there are substantial shipments of edible oils on the way to Canada from Argentina. An official said additional supplies of shortening from the vegetable oils, would be on shopkeepers' shelves by November in sufficient quantities to definitely alleviate the present short supply. Although Canada produced some shortening from soy beans, sunflower, rape and flax seeds, 55 percent of this country's requirements were imported. Consequently the quantities of vegetable oils allocated to Canada by the International Emergency Food Council had satisfied the demands of pastry-baking Canadian housewives.

A Complete Seed Testing Service

For the benefit of prairie farmers, Line Elevator Farm Service maintains and operates one of the most modern cereal seed testing laboratories in Canada. It is well equipped and efficiently staffed.

This year it will undertake to make a complete clinical examination of farmers' seed samples of wheat, oats, barley, rye and flax. This examination will include the following important tests:

1. Germination. High value will be attached to the ability of the seed to germinate and produce strong plants.

2. Weed Seeds. Samples will be examined for the presence of weed seeds, particularly seeds of noxious weeds.

3. Smuts. All samples of wheat, oats and barley will be tested for smut-borne smut. Seed treatment recommendations will be made.

4. Other Diseases. The presence of seedling blight and other seed-borne diseases will be reported.

5. Mechanical Injury. This test is particularly important for flax. Other samples will be examined for severe embryo and seed coat injury.

6. Purity of Variety. This is strictly a growing test and will be confined to wheat. Samples will be grown in the field next summer and analysed for varietal purity.

No effort will be spared to make these tests as reliable as possible. All methods of testing will be essentially similar to those developed and employed by the seed and plant pathological laboratories of the Dominion Government.

Farmers should submit samples for testing to their nearest Line Elevator agent as soon as possible and inform him as to the tests required. Samples must be at least 4 ounces and not more than 6 ounces of cleaned seed, and should be truly representative of the seed lot from which they were taken.

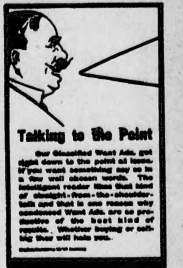

Line Elevator agents will provide suitable envelopes and forward the samples to Line Elevator Farm Service, Winnipeg.

The Minister of Finance announces A NEW BOND ISSUE FOR PEACETIME SAVINGS

Canadians are thrifty people. Their record in war financing will stand for many years to come.

Through six years, millions saved and invested in Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates in a way no one thought possible. Many thousands learned the convenience of regular, systematic saving, whether in small monthly amounts or by larger cash investment. As a result they have accumulated substantial personal reserves with all that means in increased future security and satisfaction.

Because suggestions and requests have come to me from all parts of the country that facilities for this kind of saving be continued in peacetime, the Canada Savings Bond has been created.

The issue of War Savings Certificates and Stamps to the general public will be discontinued on September 30th, and final instalments on the last Victory Bond issue will have been completed in the near future. Canada Savings Bonds, therefore, will provide an opportune means for citizens to carry on their regular savings habits without interruption.

The general public should note that this time there will be fewer salesmen than in the case of Victory Bonds. Although the new Canada Savings Bonds will be sold through banks, authorized investment dealers, stock brokers and trust or loan companies, these agencies will not be able to approach every individual Canadian. This means that for the most part it will be left to Canadians to assume the responsibility for their own purchases of Canada Savings Bonds. If they wish to grasp this opportunity, they should act for themselves without delay.

Canada Savings Bonds are designed to be the finest investment available to the public today. I recommend them to you as a safe, profitable and convenient investment for personal savings.

I now announce the terms of the new Canada Savings Bonds, which will be offered commencing October 15th.

M. A. D. H. L.
MINISTER OF FINANCE

... Features of the new Canada Savings Bonds
